

November 2010 Shows

Sunday, November 7, 11-2

Interior and exterior spaces - Talbot & Son, Artists

Talbot

Wednesday, November 10, 6-8

South St. Louis in Words and Colors- Sheila Harris, Artist A joint demonstration of painting South St. Louis architecture and discussion of writing South St. Louis history presented by watercolor artist Sheila Harris and her sister, author/historian NiNi Harris. South side 2-family flats and cast iron storefronts are subjects of many of Harris's watercolors. NiNi Harris will discuss and autograph her most recent books on St. Louis -- Historic Photos of the Gateway Arch and Holly Hills, a history of the Holly Hills neighborhood and Bellerive area.

Harris

Sunday, November 14, 11-1

In Gratitude— Jennifer Griggs, Artist

Art featured this month will be scenes and images related to hope and thanks during the season of Thanksgiving and preparation for the holiday season. All featured pieces will be tagged with a Thanksgiving turkey hand symbol, and 25% of the proceeds will benefit the Food Pantry Ministry at St. Cecilia's Catholic Church in South City.

Griggs

Friday, November 19, 4-8

Dragged Lines— Rebecca Eilering, Artist
New linear drawings on paper

Eilering

Tuesday, November 30, 4-8

Connective Strands— Bob Hartzell, Artist

The past, present and future of patriotism outside the main stream. Hand-made paper and pulp paintings

Hartzell